PRESIDENT WILL TALK TO TROOPS

Keen Interest Shown in Europe at Coming Address to the American Army.

LOCATION IS UNKNOWN

Allied Nations Hope to Gain From Speech a More Definite Idea of Wilson's Exact Position on Vital Points.

Paris, Dec. 12.—President Wilson will make an address to the American troops soon after his arrival in France. It is expected to be one of the most important delivered during his stay in Europe and is being looked forward to by Europeans, who hope to gain from it a more definite idea of the President's exact position regarding many vital points.

Place Not Determined.

It is certain the President will make this speech at the American front, but at what place has not been determined. The President, it is announced, will visit devastated districts in France, and, although present plans are tentative, all depending on his personal wishes, the trip may take him into former German territory.

Visits to Metz and Strassburg are extremely probable.

President Wilson will lunch with President Poincaré on Saturday, soon after his arrival. The plans for Sunday have not yet been made known. On Monday President Wilson will hold a reception in the Paris city hall, to which a host of officials have been invited.

President Wilson will visit Italy, but no date has been fixed. A hundred invitations or more for the President to visit various places in France and the Allied countries are being received daily.

In Brest Friday Morning.

Brest, Dec. 12.—The United States steamer George Washington, with President Wilson and party aboard, changed its course after leaving the Azores, and will arrive in Brest in advance of the time announced, according to a naval wireless dispatch received.

The President now is expected to reach Brest at 10 o'clock Friday morning instead of at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

He will leave for Paris at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

AMERICAN ISOLATION GONE

Secretary Daniels Speaks at Banquet in Baltimore.

Baltimore, Dec. 12.—The day of isolation in the United States has passed for good or ill, and I profoundly believe it is for good. This republic must concern itself with every problem that touches the people of every portion of the world."

This was the declaration of Joseph Daniels, secretary of the navy, in an address at a banquet given here by the Southern Commercial Club in honor of the diplomatic representatives of the nations associated with the United States in the world war.

SIX TRANSPORTS IN PORT

Vessels Bring Home 8,840 American Soldiers.

New York, Dec. 12.—Six transports brought home to the United States 8,840 more of the troops of the American expeditionary force. The Kroonland, Calamares, Adriatic, Ascanius and Tenadores docked in New York with 7,340 soldiers and the Canopic with 1,500.

All these men will go to camps before being demobilized. The returning vessels brought also several hundred civilians from the war zones.

MAY DENY FOOD TO GERMANY

Allies Demand Dissolution of Soldiers' and Workers' Councils.

Copenhagen, Dec. 12.—According to reports from Berlin, the Entente governments intend to refuse to send foodstuffs to Germany until a demand for dissolution of the soldiers' and workers' councils, which they are said to have made, is carried out. The Allies, the reports add, will reserve the right to march into Germany.

12 SPIES SHOT IN LONDON

Many Others Found Guilty Escaped Extreme Penalty.

London, Dec. 12.—Twelve spies were shot in the Tower of London during the war, according to the report now current. Carl Hans Lody, alias Charles A. Inglis, who at one time was a resident of Omaha, Neb., was the first to be executed.

Two women spies were sentenced to death but both were reprieved, the sentences being commuted to long prison terms.

One spy hanged himself in Brixton prison while many others convicted of espionage escaped the extreme penalty.

Wilson's Influence Will be Enormous

By William Philip Simms, United Press Staff Correspondent.

Paris, Dec. 12.—The peace machinery is at a standstill pending the arrival of President Woodrow Wilson. Even informal preliminary conferences have been abandoned until the American executive can be heard personally.

Newspapers of all shades of political affiliations agree that Wilson's influence will be enormous.

Little is being published at present regarding the peace conference itself, but columns are being devoted to President Wilson, his principles and his attitude.

New Issue of Treasury Certificates Authorized

(By United Press)

Washington, Dec. 12.—A new issue of treasury certificates of indebtedness amounting to five hundred million dollars was authorized today by Secretary McAdoo. The issue will be dated December 19th, and mature May 26, 1919.

Speedy Action by Congress Desired

(By United Press)

Washington, Dec. 12.—A request for immediate action by congress on Secretary Lane's plan for reclamation of arid, swamps and cut-over lands including an appropriation of not less than fifty million dollars will be presented soon it was intimated today at the department of the interior.

Ex-Standard Oil Magnates Widow Re-Marries

(By United Press)

New York, Dec. 12.—Warrants charging manslaughter in the second degree were issued by Mayor Hylan, sitting as committing magistrate, against Timothy S. Williams, president of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company, four subordinate officials of the company, and Anthony Lucania, motorman of the train wrecked Nov. 1, in a tunnel with the loss of 93 lives and injuries to many other passengers. The train jumped the tracks and plunged into steel pillars.

The issuance of the warrants was the outcome of a "John Doe" inquiry begun by the mayor the day after the wreck, which followed a strike of motormen.

In a statement announcing his decision, Mayor Hylan scored the Public Service commission for "apparent failure and culpable neglect to perform its duty," and recommended that District Attorney Lewis present "the facts" to the grand jury with a view to ascertaining whether such alleged negligence constituted a violation of the penal code.

CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY

Man and Woman Held for Stealing Liberty Motor Plans.

Chicago, Dec. 12.—Ira J. O'Malley, an aeronautical engineer, and Miss Anna Dorin, a stenographer, were indicted by a federal grand jury here charged with conspiracy to obtain information about aircraft construction used in the national defense.

Miss Dorin was employed in an automobile plant in Detroit and is accused by the government of having forwarded to O'Malley at his office in Chicago a set of plans for the Liberty motor.

CROP WORTH $5,402,936,000

Value of Combined Wheat and Corn Yield for 1918.

Washington, Dec. 12.—American farmers raised a combined wheat and corn crop this year worth $5,402,936,000 in their efforts to feed the world, government crop experts estimated. Under a guaranteed price, wheat acreage increased 14,021,000, while the corn acreage and yield decreased. The wheat crop alone, at war prices, showed an increase in value over the five-year average of $1,073,252,000.

FLEET TOTALS 2,614 SHIPS

Shipping Board Files Its Report With Congress.

Washington, Dec. 12.—A total of 10,334,196 deadweight tons comprised America's merchant fleet Sept. 1, the shipping board's report sent to Congress revealed. The fleet was made up of 1,842 steamers and tankers and 772 sailing vessels. The deadweight capacity of the steamers and tankers was 8,693,579 tons.

ALLIES WILL CONFER JAN. 3

Paris, Dec. 10.—The formal sessions of the associated governments conference will begin about Jan. 3, it is believed here. They will be in the French foreign office and will continue five or six weeks. After fully formulating the peace terms, the Germans will be invited to send their delegates to Versailles, where the general peace conference will take place.

Bitter Assaults Made on Gov. Ownership Wireless Telegraph

(By United Press)

Washington, Dec. 12.—Bitter assaults on the naval plan for ownership and control of wireless as the opening wedge for a government ownership campaign were made by members of the house merchant marine committee today. Secretary Daniels throughout the hearing protested that the radio control should not be connected with government ownership of public utilities and declared that peculiar conditions surrounding wireless communication were his reasons for urging the bill.

Senate Wants to Know U. S. Russian Policy

(By United Press)

Washington, Dec. 12.—The transport Martha Washington, left France Dec. 9th, with 110 officers and 1,656 men, besides 539 wounded, sick and enlisted men and 36 casualties. The personnel aboard is as follows: Thirty-eighth division S. S. A. D. R. E. S. (training nucleus); one hundred and sixteenth artillery, headquarters company and one hundred and sixteenth artillery complete.

Peace Delegation is Nearing France

BY FRED S. FERGUSON, Staff Correspondent, United Press

Brest, France, Dec. 12.—The George Washington bearing President Woodrow Wilson and his party was 600 miles out from Brest when she last reported by wireless at midnight.

The big steamer was making 15 knots owing to the heavy seas, but was expected to arrive on schedule Friday afternoon as the result of her shortened course.

There was a heavy fog and a drizzle of rain off shore.

Main Army of Yanks are Nearing Rhine

BY WEBB MILLER, United Press Staff Correspondent

With the Americans on the Rhine, Dec. 12.—While doughboys are patrolling Coblenz the advance guard of the main forces of the American army are nearing the Rhine on a front of fifty-five miles.

A cavalry detachment already has reached the river near Sinzig, twenty miles northwest of Coblenz. The 32nd division (Michigan and Wisconsin National Guards) is only a few miles away.

Only Three.

A certain political orator was thus described by an opponent: "He has only three faults. First, he reads his speeches; second, he reads them bad; third, they are not worth reading."

GERMAN MARK DEPRECIATES

Value Has Fallen Below 42 to the British Pound.

London, Dec. 12.—The value of the German mark has fallen below 42 to the British pound. Before the war the mark was worth approximately one shilling, or 20 marks to the pound.

At Copenhagen on Dec. 7 42.28 marks could be obtained for one pound sterling; at Christiania 42.08 marks for a pound; Stockholm, 41.5, and at Berne 41.08. At Stockholm the rate of exchange on the Austrian kronen has fallen to 77.20 to the pound sterling.

BALL MAGNATES WILL MEET

National and American Owners to Discuss Problems.

New York, Dec. 12.—The National Baseball league went on record here favoring a joint conference with the American league to discuss problems which confront the game with the return to peace conditions. A telegram to this effect was sent to each of the American league owners and to President Ban Johnson at Chicago.

Second Journey of President to France May be Necessary

(By United Press)

Aboard the U. S. S. George Washington, Dec. 12 (By Wireless)—If the peace treaty is not signed by March (when the new congress convenes) it will be necessary for President Wilson to return to the United States and make a second journey to France, was the belief expressed today. It was hoped, however, this would not be necessary.

Another Transport Leaves France

(By United Press)

Washington, Dec. 12.—The transport Martha Washington, left France Dec. 9th, with 110 officers and 1,656 men, besides 539 wounded, sick and enlisted men and 36 casualties. The personnel aboard is as follows: Thirty-eighth division S. S. A. D. R. E. S. (training nucleus); one hundred and sixteenth artillery, headquarters company and one hundred and sixteenth artillery complete.

WILHELM WONT TALK

Former German Ruler Refuses to Be Interviewed.

Remains Silent Through Fear That He May Have to Answer for His Crimes.

London, Dec. 12.—According to the Amerongen correspondent of the Express, William Hohenzollern will not make any statement as to his efforts to prevent the outbreak of war in 1914.

The correspondent has finally succeeded in having submitted to Herr Hohenzollern questions as to his attitude before the war and his steps to prevent hostilities. Count von Bentinck, the host of the former emperor, received the correspondent after the questions had been laid before Herr Hohenzollern, and is reported to have had.

The kaiser much appreciates your message and thanks you. He says: "Tell him if there is any possibility of my becoming a defendant I prefer postponing anything I have to say until that time. In addition, I do not desire in any way to compromise any member of the government as it existed at the time of the outbreak of the war."

He summarized his remarks on this point as follows:

"First—As far as justice is concerned, we have an absolute right to demand the whole cost of the war from Germany.

With regard to the former German emperor, the premier said:

"There is absolutely no doubt that he has committed a crime against international rights, and there is absolutely no doubt that he ought to be held responsible for it, so far as the European allies are concerned."

INVITATION IS CANCELLED

German Cabinet Asks Russian Radicals to Stay At Home.

Berlin, Dec. 12.—The German cabinet has sent a wireless message to the Russian government asking it not to send a delegation to Berlin for a conference planned for Dec. 16. The reason given was the "present situation in Germany."

The Russian Bolshevik delegates were invited by the executive committee of the soldiers' and workmen's council against the wishes of the cabinet.

WILLING TO LEAVE HOLLAND

Former Kaiser Said to Be Ready to Take Departure.

Berlin, Dec. 12.—A Rotterdam dispatch to the Berliner Tageblatt says the former kaiser is willing to leave Holland.

Million Cases of Influenza.

Amsterdam, Dec. 12.—It is officially intimated that there are a million cases of influenza in the Dutch East Indies.

Circulated Seditious Literature.

Copenhagen, Dec. 12.—Adolph Joffe, former ambassador to Germany of the Russian Bolshevik government, who, when recently accused of circulating seditious literature in Germany, denied it, not only admits it now, but glorifies in the achievement. He declares the literature was circulated "through the good offices of the Independent Socialists" and makes the further declaration that a number of weapons were handed over to Herr Berta, secretary of the Independent Social Democratic party.

If the time should come when you will require the confidence or the backing of a business man or banker, your character will be "taken apart," scrutinized, analyzed.

In determining your worthiness, one of the important queries will be "Does he know how to handle money?" Another, "Has he made a success in handling his own financial resources?"

Aside from the question of personal integrity, these will be the most important considerations.

When your character is thus "taken apart" and examined, there will be found the financial instincts you are now weaving into it.

Does not that suggest the importance of a well managed savings account at this bank?

WOMAN'S REALM

SUGAR DIVISION

Of the Food Administration Passes Into History—Review of the Work Accomplished

With the close of this week the sugar division of the food administration passes into history. December 15 is the date of its demobilization. Through its efforts Minnesota has saved several million pounds of sugar for the Allies.

"The sugar division will have its share of interesting figures to add to Minnesota's part in war history" says F. S. Pool, who has been the sugar division representative for the federal food administration for Minnesota.

"At the time of the organization of the sugar division here on May 10, 1918, the sugar division consisted of one stenographer and myself. Then came the certifying plan. Its application kept expanding and expanding until we required the services of two assistant mail correspondents, eight stenographers, five general office clerks, five mail clerks and twenty-two record and certificate clerks. During this time some 13,500 accounts were handled with retailers, manufacturers, bakers and public eating houses, to whom certificates were issued monthly. Our records included a statement from each, all properly recorded and filed showing the certificate as issued, in varying amounts each month according to the quantity allowed to this state from Washington."

"At all times the allotment was adhered to and in no case were certificates issued in excess of the allotment. Not only did we live up to the specified quantity in Minnesota, but we actually saved to the extent of several million pounds of sugar. During the season for canning sugar in the four months of July, August, September and October, certificates were issued weekly to the grocers to replace all sales for canning purposes. Although these were the days when our correspondence outgrew one filing case and kept on until it required ten four-drawer filing cabinets to meet its needs, the correspondence and the filing was only one part of our activities. Telephone inquiries increased until there were many days when the time of two people was required continuously at the phones. Personal calls grew at a corresponding rate of increase, and the clerk force was divided; one portion working days and the other at night, that the work might be kept in the best shape possible.

"I would just like to add that while the other war workers have been giving long hours to their efforts we would like the public to know that the employees of the sugar division in many instances have worked from seven in the morning until ten at night and have done it faithfully and willingly, as their bit."

Mr. Pool has not confined his war activities to the development of the sugar division for Minnesota. With his two oldest sons and his son-in-law serving in the United States army, he has had charge of the Liberty Loan Campaign in the third district, comprising all of north Minneapolis, for the second, third, and fourth Liberty Loan campaigns, and in the same territory for the War Chest Drive which included the United War Work Campaign. Likewise he served on the local draft board for the third ward in Minneapolis, and

Offered by Dec. 20

A. D. Wilson, federal food administrator for Minnesota, yesterday issued a statement to all food dealers and to jobbers and wholesalers of cereals outlining the buying program of the food administration grain corporation, for the taking over of a limited quantity of flour substitutes.

"When the rules of the United States food administration, requiring that flour substitutes be sold, were repealed on November 12, announcement was made from Washington that plans were being made for the taking over of the surplus substitutes food dealers, and the jobbers and the wholesalers had on hand," says Mr. Wilson. "That the grain corporation may assist in the disposition of such excess stocks as may be on hand, it is prepared to purchase a limited quantity of the compulsory substitutes which included Victory flour, rye, barley and corn flour and corn meal. No rice flour, corn starch, or other substitutes will be purchased but correspondence concerning rice or oat flour may be addressed to J. J. Stream of the Cereal Division of the Food Administration in Washington. The maximum prices for the compulsory substitutes will be $10.50 per barrel for Victory flour, $7.50 for rye, $8 for barley, $8.50 for corn flour and $8.00 for corn meal, delivered at sea board in carloads in any size sacks; these prices representing the gross returns upon delivery at the sea board. Only such quantities can be considered which are actually in excess of normal requirements at this season of the year; only the above named substitutes which were purchased or contracted for prior to November 15 and milled in accordance with the food administration milling specifications can be considered; and only offering made prior to December 20, 1918, can be considered. We are asking the jobbers and wholesalers to be careful first to consider the market requirements and not to make an offering if it is at all possible to dispose of it in the local market. The allotment which the grain corporation is permitted to purchase is limited and only such purchases can be made as may seem imperative. No purchases shall be made exceeding actual cost. Purchases of over one carload can not be made except by special arrangement. Broken packages or unsound products will not be accepted. Where there is not a carload ready at hand for shipment it will be necessary for the food administration to assemble the substitutes offered into a carload at various designated points. When the carload is assembled it will be shipped to the sea board by way of Chicago where it will be officially inspected and as soon as returns are made from the grain corporation a check will be sent to each individual for the amount due him. The government will repack the substitutes in 140 pound jute sacks, assuming the expense of the sacks and the labor of repacking."

Blanks for full statement of cereals on hand are being sent to the dealers who are to make no shipments until direct orders are sent from the food administration.

At the Best Tomorrow

Frank Keenan, star of "Ruler of the Road," a five part Pathé play, which will be shown at the Best tomorrow, was born in Dubuque, Iowa, April 8, 1858. His first appearance on the stage was made at the Boston College hall in 1876. His professional debut was with the veteran actor, Joseph Proctor at Lawrence, Mass. For some years Mr. Keenan had an extended experience in stock and acting with many players of repute deriving all the benefits of such associations.

Some of Mr. Keenan's early successes were made in plays written by James A. Hearne, the author of "Shore Acres." In several of these he played the star part and made a particular hit in "Hearts of Oak." Later at the Boston opera house he scored heavily as Fagin in "Oliver Twist." At that famous theatre he was associated with such sterling players as Joseph Harworth, Annie Clark, Sadie Martinot and William Mestayer, a company reputed to be the best stock ever seen in Boston. Among the plays in which he appeared at this period were "Rosedale," "The Lyons Mail," "The Bells" and "A Texas Steer."

In the original production of "The Christian," Mr. Keenan created the part of Brother Paul and also managed the realistic mob scenes which James A. Hearne declared to be the best he had ever witnessed on the stage.

The Supreme Test.

To retain our faith in our ideals when broken and trodden beneath men's feet in the dust, to know how to lay aside our inward sadness, to dismiss our enervating doubts and struggle on, to continue our march, sustained only by the thought of duty and an unyielding will, to make the most of life as it is given us—that is the supreme test of all great souls. That is the real victory of faith that overcometh the world.—Elwood Worcester.

PUT CREAM IN NOSE
AND STOP CATARRH

Tells How To Open Clogged Nostriis and End Head-Colds.

You feel fine in a few moments. Your cold in head or catarrh will be gone. Your clogged nostrils will open. The air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more dullness, headache; no hawking, snuffling, mucous discharges or dryness; no straining for breath at night.

Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream to your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, and relief comes instantly. It is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer needs. Don't stay stuffed-up and miserable.

TEMPTING DISHES.

The seasoning of foods is the most important part of cookery. The finest of dishes imperfectly or improperly seasoned, are "flat, stale and unprofitable."

A most appetizing hot dish good for the noon or night meal may be prepared by using two cupfuls of cooked rice and the meat which has been put through the meat chopper. Season highly with cayenne, salt and add enough tomato to make the mixture quite moist. Bake until well-heated through.

Cooked beets either chopped or sliced and reheated with plenty of good olive oil, when butter is to be saved, salt, a teaspoonful of sugar, a dash of cayenne and a tablespoonful of hot vinegar, makes a most appetizing way of serving the good whole-some vegetable.

Hot Potato Salad.—Boil half a dozen potatoes and slice them while hot. Fry thin slices of bacon and cut into small pieces until there is half a cupful; into this after pouring off all but two tablespoonsfuls of fat, stir a tablespoonful of flour, with one-quarter of a teaspoonful of mustard, a few dashes of red pepper and a half teaspoonful of salt. Stir constantly until smooth, adding gradually a half cupful of mild vinegar; let the dressing boil; add the bacon and a small onion chopped to the potatoes; heat all together and serve very hot.

Cranberry Conserve.—Cook a quart of cranberries in water enough to float them. When cooked add an equal measure of sugar, the pulp of three oranges, one cupful of raisins and the grated peel of one orange. Simmer until thick; then pour into glasses and cover with paraffin.

Cooked chopped beets, added to chopped onion and green peppers with French dressing makes a nice salad. Serve on lettuce leaves.

Bake cabbage in the oven and when tender season with butter, salt and pepper. Chicken fat, bacon fat or any sweet dripping may be used as butter in seasoning. These fats will not add the flavor that butter gives, but we are asked to save butter as it is needed in large quantities by the allies and our own soldiers.

The removal of W. E. McEwen from the postmastership of Duluth caused surprise to his many friends in Brainerd. He renewed many acquaintances in Brainerd when he spoke at the Elks memorial exercises Sunday.

Mr. McEwen made a record in efficiency in handling the affairs of the postoffice at Duluth and his friends were surprised at his removal. Mr. McEwen in an interview given out at Duluth could assign no reason except personal ones.

But all Duluth is assured "Billy" will come back and soon too.

Double-Entry Bookkeeping Ancient.

It comes as a surprise, very often, to find how far back in the centuries some of the ordinary things of everyday life cast their roots. It may not be generally realized that double-entry bookkeeping, for instance, adopted in most large businesses of the modern world, originated, or if it did not originate, was practiced, among the mercantile communities of Italy in the fifteenth century. An early exponent of the method was a Minorite monk named Luca de Burgo, otherwise Pacioli, who wrote and published a treatise on the subject in Venice in the year 1494, three years before Sebastian Cabot landed in America. The system survives as Luca de Burgo established it, with the exception of the few alterations necessitated by four centuries of commercial evolution.

HAVE WINTER "WAR GARDEN"

Astonishing Variety of Vegetables May Be Grown in a Few Window and Porch Boxes.

Window boxes and porch boxes that have done an artistic and highly appreciated service for the home now have an opportunity to serve garnishes and salad for the table if only you can them to serve. The sunny kitchen window or space by the attic that is glorified by sun and air will be the very place for boxes planted to lettuce or parsley. Select a quick-growing variety, plant shallow as in cold frames, cover with glass the first two weeks if convenient (they grow nicely without that coaxing, however), and you will have lettuce very soon. Young onions may be grown in the same way. In England the dandelion is planted in flower pots and window boxes and used all winter as a salad. This was a government recommendation. Fresh vegetables and salads are great disease preventives. A letter from London says: "For those who like blanched salad dandelions grown in the cellar and flower pots are as white and tender as endive and cost nothing at all. People have got to have some sort of fresh food. The scarcity of vegetables and the prohibitive prices kept many people from eating them last winter and children especially suffered. The government doctors say that those mysterious vitamins are to be found in greater abundance in a dish of salad than anywhere else."

Taking What Comes.

You must take what you can get these days," said the philosophical citizen. "Yes," replied the weary one: "but some of these telephone numbers I get aren't of the slightest use to me."

THE FIRST SQUARE MEAL ESTABLISH MODEL FARMS IN FRANCE

How Red Cross Has Fed Italian Prisoners.

Last spring the Red Cross workers at Berne were busy arranging to care for the American soldiers who were taken prisoners by the Germans, and now the new exchange agreement means that Italians from Austria on their way back to Italy are being cared for in hundreds. They are a particularly fit lot, these "grand blessed"—the hopelessly wounded men—but they are always delighted with the prospect of a parole.

Since these farms will be worked almost entirely by the convalescent soldiers and those made unfit for active service, the expense of maintenance will be very little.

The method employed is this: The Italian Government sends a train into Austria through Switzerland to gather up the men released under the exchange agreement. The train crosses the Swiss border and at Buchs is met by delegations from the allied Red Cross organizations, and under the present plan the food is furnished by the American Red Cross. To many of these men this is the first square meal that they have had for years. Clothing is also furnished them. Each man of the 300 which each train carries is given cigarettes and a small American flag, and many who have been in America, some of whom have been taken out of their first papers, are overjoyed at the bit of red, white and blue and most demonstrative in their delight.

The representatives of the Red Cross remain on the train until it reaches Zurich, then return to Switzerland again.

It is the food which America has sent over which gives to these men their first meal—food which has been saved by eating smaller portions, and by going without.

Children of France.

Some one has said of the children of the devastated regions: "They are too sad, they must laugh or they cannot live." It is not enough to found hospitals and to provide food. They must be given wholesome recreation and their natural joy in life restored. This is what the American Red Cross is doing for the children of France.

Yep, I'll Do the—

"Dear me," observed Mrs. Langford, fainly, as she settled herself in her steamer chair and gazed leisurely about her through her one-hoss long-nette. "How wonderfully convenient these ocean steamers are, to be sure! Why, we won't even be troubled to punish little Algernon when he is naughty. All we'll have to do is to lay him across a coil of rope in one of those spanking breezes we read so much about."

ASKS CONGRESS TO EXTEND TIME

Director General McAdoo Recommends Retaining Railways for Five More Years.

DATE IS JAN. 1, 1924

Main Reasons Are to Take Question Out of Politics and Give Time for Carrying Out Program of Improvement.

Washington, Dec. 12.—Director General McAdoo has recommended to Congress extension of the period of government control of railroads for five years, until Jan. 1, 1924.

Advantages of this, Mr. McAdoo said, are that it would take the railroad question out of politics for the present, give time for carrying out an extensive program of improvement and provide opportunity for a fair test of unified control to indicate the permanent solution of the railroad problem.

The President has given me permission to say that this conclusion accords with his own view of the matter," Mr. McAdoo said.

The letter was addressed to Senator Smith of South Carolina, and Representative Sims, chairman, respectively, of the Senate and House interstate commerce committees.

Holds Private Control Hurtful.

Mr. McAdoo explained that to continue government operation for 21 months after formal declaration of peace under present conditions would mean disruption of morale among employees and officers and could not enable the government to go ahead with improvements and purchase the equipment.

Another alternative, the prompt return of the railroads to private control without legislation to permit elimination of the old wasteful competition, would be "hurtful alike to the public interests and to the railroads themselves," he said, "and the difficulty of obtaining immediate legislation providing a permanent solution is apparent."

Program Could Be Completed.

"There is one, and to my mind only one, practicable and wise alternative," Mr. McAdoo continued, "and that is to extend the period of federal control from the one year and nine months provided by the present law to five years or until the first day of January, 1924.

"This extension would take the railroad question out of politics for a reasonable period. It would give exposure to railroad officers and employees.

"It would admit of the preparation and carrying out of a comprehensive program of improvements of the railroads and their terminal facilities which would immensely increase the efficiency of the transportation machine.

"It would put back of the railroads the credit of the United States in the five year period so that the financing of these improvements could be successfully carried out.

Time for Permanent Solution.

"It would offer the necessary opportunity under proper conditions to test the value of unified control and the experience thus gained would of itself indicate the permanent solution of the railroad problem.

"The American people have a right to this test. They should not be denied it. It is to their interest it should be done. In my opinion it is the only practicable and reasonable method of determining the right solution of this grave economic question."

SIX KILLED IN EXPLOSION

Accident Occurs On the Armored Cruiser Brooklyn.

Washington, Dec. 12.—Six men of the armored cruiser Brooklyn were killed and 20 others injured, several seriously, in an explosion of coal dust aboard the vessel, at Yokohama, Japan, where it was coaling.

The Brooklyn was not damaged, and a court of inquiry has been called to investigate the explosion.

The Brooklyn was the flagship of Rear Admiral Schley in the battle of Santiago in 1898, and is one of the most famous ships in the navy.

KAISER SAFE IN HOLLAND

Germany Cannot Secure Return of Former Emperor.

The Hague, Dec. 12.—The former German emperor is entitled to the right of sanctuary in Holland, and therefore his return to Germany cannot be demanded, according to a statement made by Jonckheer Berenbrink in the lower chamber of parliament in a debate on the visit of the former emperor to Holland.

German Conditions Overdrawn.

Washington, Dec. 12.—While the State department declined to be specific as to its information concerning Germany, it intimated that conditions in that nation are not as bad as painted. This government is watching closely the developments within Germany as the time approaches for assembly of the national soviet congress. This body, as already pointed out, will set a date for elections. It probably will undertake also to lay down some basis for the future of the nation.

Battery Care!

IT IS VERY IMPORTANT
During the Winter Months that storage batteries be given PARTICULAR Attention.
Whether in use or idle it is constantly undergoing chemical changes and will deteriorate rapidly
If Not Given Proper Attention.

Batteries will freeze when discharged or partly discharged, and a frozen battery is worthless.

Test and inspect your battery once a week. See that it is properly charged and contains the proper amount of liquid. The hydrometer should be used when adding distilled water; thoroughly mixing the solution by withdrawing a part and replacing it 2 or 3 times.

Batteries should be handled very carefully during the winter months when the thermometer is around zero and below, as the rubber in the jars become very brittle and a cell can be easily cracked by a jolt or jar. Cracked Jars Cause Trouble!

RED CROSS DRIVE STARTS DEC. 16

Aim of Brainerd Chapter and 25 Auxiliaries to Gain 100 Per Cent Record in Campaign

MEMBERSHIPS ARE $1.00 EACH

Button This Year Will Bear the Mark 1919. All Should Answer "Present" at Roll Call

One hundred per cent membership in the American Red Cross will be the goal in a nine day drive commencing December 16 and terminating December 23rd.

An armistice is not a peace; a million or more Americans may have to stay in Europe for months—perhaps years; and even after peace is signed and sealed there will be work for the "Greatest Mother in the World." She must help to rebuild Belgium and restore France in addition to her special service of rebuilding broken bodies and strengthening stricken spirits; for a long time to come there must be no letting up in her work of mercy.

That work costs money and needs funds; it will be financed by all Americans who have "a heart and a dollar"—which is to say by 100% of our population.

The Roll Call starts Monday morning, December 16th at 9 a. m. when the Brainerd chapter and 25 auxiliaries will start at the same time to enroll every person in Crow Wing county as a member for the year 1919.

Local headquarters will be in the Anna Block corner of Seventh and Front just back of the Woodhead Motor Co. on 7th street.

The block workers of the Women's Council of Defense will have charge of the canvass in the residence districts under the direction of the general chairman, Paul G. Clarkson.

There is no quota limit—the goal is 100%.

The button this year will bear the mark 1919 thus making it impossible for any to escape the rigid canvas that will be made for members.

Hotels, stores, banks and other public places will be favored with workers from the High School Red Cross girls, whose untiring effort brought such gratifying results last year. General mention of the Roll Call will be made in all pulpits next Sunday.

This will be a "dollar drive" and a dollar is all that will be asked.

Other memberships are open to those who wish to subscribe for them.

Loyal citizens of Brainerd are urged to be prepared to answer "present" when the Roll Call is begun and help make this the greatest substantial recognition of the splendid work of the Red Cross.

E. D. Wilkins of Ione, Takes Pleasure in Reading Dispatch Giving Home News

In a letter to the Brainerd Dispatch, E. D. Wilkins of Ione, Washington, former Brainerd resident and clerk of the Modern Woodmen Lodge, writes:

"I have taken a whole lot of pleasure reading the Dispatch in order to see what the people were doing in my old home town. I find most of them as full of pep as the people in the west."

"Our sawmill town of Ione has doubled every war drive and tripled the third Liberty Loan. We have four honor flags. Labor troubles in the past year have been something fierce. The L. W. W. had a very strong hold on the state of Washington, but after the government took over the lumber industry it was not quite so bad. At the present time all kinds of business seems to be improving."

"I quite often meet some of the old time Brainerd boys such as R. G. Valentyn, C. V. Wadham, Jim McGinnis, Tom Ruthford, Chas. Walker and many others. We seem to enjoy talking over the happenings in Brainerd, the home of our childhood."

Mr. Wilkins has a position with the Panhandle Lumber Co., manufacturers of Idaho white pine and western pine. Mills and yards are at Spirit Lake, Idaho, and Ione, Wash.

FUNERAL TODAY

Short Services Over Remains of R. B. Withington Held on Thursday Morning

Short services were held over the remains of R. B. Withington Thursday morning at his home, Rev. E. A. Cooke, pastor of the First Methodist church officiating. The funeral was private owing to the influenza ban. The remains were sent to Tama, Ia., in the afternoon. Banks in Brainerd closed in the morning in respect to his memory.

Dr. Thompson of Tama, Iowa, father of Mrs. Withington, was in attendance during his illness, co-operating with local physicians. His sister, Mrs. Laura Shambour, arrived Tuesday from Miles City, Mont. He leaves his parents and three sisters residing in southern Texas near the border.

An intimate friend of Mr. Withington, William Maas of Mandan, N. D., came to comfort the family as soon as wired of the death.

JACK BURNS DIED

Well Known Character of the City Resident Forty Years, Died at His Home in First Ward

Jack Burns, aged about 60, died Wednesday night at his home in the first ward following a severe illness which took him to his bed last Friday. He was first treated at the emergency hospital, then removed to the Sisters hospital and then taken to his home. It was with difficulty that nurses could treat him at first, but later he grew weaker at his home and the end came Wednesday night.

He was a character in Brainerd, first coming to Brainerd forty years ago when the town was in the frontier stage and running on the western wide open plan.

Burns' true name was John McGuire and he has a brother and other relatives living at or near Montreal, Canada. About two years ago Burns visited them. He always dressed conspicuously and was fond of displaying large diamond stickpins, rings, etc. He shunned liquor and in the last ten years eschewed it entirely. His companion in earlier years was a little white dog with a small saddle attached. Burns was married several times. He had considerable property and converted most of his cash into certificates of deposit.

Records in the court house show McGuire was married November 2, 1905, by Judge J. T. Sanborn of the probate court to Miss Julie Johnson and a witness to the ceremony was the bride's brother, Charles Johnson. He was married before that time. In 1881 J. A. McColl took a picture of a baby son of McGuire. The boy's mother is believed to have left McGuire. The boy grew to manhood and is now serving under the colors in France. Some two months ago McGuire was at the court house and made some affidavit in relation to the young soldier.

In addition to owning realty and having considerable personal property, McGuire recently gained a verdict of $1227.52 against the county in a tax title case, covering lots 23 and 24, block 49, of Brainerd.

McGuire's face carried a long scar which he said was gained in his young days when a barber slipped his razor and cut his face.

CHAMBER MEMBERSHIPS

Members of Advisory Board and Solicitors Urged to Turn in Applications Daily

Members of the advisory board and the membership committee of the Chamber of Commerce are urged to turn in applications as rapidly as they are received, in order that they may be placed on the bulletin board and recorded. Every member in the Chamber is urged to renew his membership for the year 1919 and to call at the office of the secretary for this purpose at once.

A list of renewals secured during the week and also new members will be published in the Dispatch Saturday evening.

Solicitors can aid in the work by being prompt and not following the unhappy custom of the past in putting off the work allotted to them. The "live wire" solicitors are recognized by their action. See that your name is written with the other boosters in the Dispatch Saturday night. It is up to the committee men.

HOLD THREE BRIDGEHEADS

Are Now In Hands of Allies Under Terms of Armistice.

London, Dec. 12.—The three bridgeheads to be occupied under the terms of the armistice are now in the hands of the Allies.

French troops have entered Mayence (Mainz). Previously the Americans had reached Coblenz and the British occupied Cologne.

A large proportion of the west bank of the Rhine is now held by the Allied armies. The Belgians and British are along practically the whole course of the river, from the Dutch border southward to Bonn. The Americans are on the Rhine in their whole zone of occupation from Rolandkamp to Tretzenghausen (about 60 miles).

GIVING UP CONTROL IS NOT RELISHED

DEMOCRATS ARE RELUCTANT TO SURRENDER THEIR POWER AND PERQUISITES.

MAY YET HOLD THE SENATE

Old Factional Fight in Republican Party Between Progressives and Stand-Patters Has Not Died Out—Boon for Medal Industry.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington.—There is no disguising the fact that the Democrats do not relish the idea of giving up the power and all that goes with it in control of congress.

For eight years in the house and six years in the senate they have had all that goes with the control of congress. This includes the management of the legislative business of the country, the handling of the big questions that have come up for consideration in that time, and besides, all those little conveniences which go with control, such as good committee rooms and similar perquisites.

Now they must surrender these as soon as the next congress assembles and the time between giving up good things and returning to the husks of minority pickings is all too short, whether there is an extra session in the spring or a vacation until next December. As to the house there is no question about giving up control to the Republicans. In the senate there is a possibility that the Republicans may quarrel among themselves to such an extent that they cannot organize the upper house, in which event the Democrats will continue to control.

Thus it happened that the young set of Farmington church at first dubbed the new minister a "conceited prig." His eloquent sermons Paul felt instinctively were not being received with general favor—even the good fellowship sought with the men of his congregation was a failure.

"What was wrong?" he asked himself. "In what way was his endeavor lacking?"

He was bound to look for help at last from the bright-eyed girls in the choir, and immediately that help was forthcoming, but the singing brought forth no enthusiasm. It was necessary to seek out church decorators among the young women; they were also quickly found, but Paul realized that he was again passing through the experience of past charges.

Then one day, as his eyes flashed with the truth of his statements glanced over the upraised faces of his congregation, Paul paused suddenly before the steady sight of a young woman's concentrated gaze. Almost it seemed that she was reading his soul. Unwilling, yet drawn by some compelling power, he turned again and still again to that absorbed, strangely winsome face. He had found his inspiration. Paul Worthington preached that day as he never had preached before. And when after service he hastened down the aisle for his customary hand-shaking, it was in a fever of impatience lest someone should obstruct his progress until the young stranger had gone.

"A splendid sermon!" praised the girls of the choir.

"The pulpit flowers?" questioned a fair member of the decorating committee, "were they arranged as you wished?"

The Reverend Paul nodded absentmindedly. He had located the girl of the oblivious eyes as she was about to step out to the street. "Good morning," he greeted. "I wish to thank you for your earnest attention. A good listener is a pastor's help."

The girl's unique attraction seemed enhanced with nearness. Unsmiling, she allowed him to clasp her hand.

"Your sermon was good, but far too long," she said quietly.

The Reverend Paul fairy gasped as the little figure of his mentor passed on her way. He was still perturbed as he ascended the pulpit steps at evening and looked defiance toward the pew where the girl demurely waited. Then his defiance was lost in satisfaction. She should see that her criticism had not influenced in the least his evening sermon; not once would he look in her direction. But he did. And when, during the evening Paul saw the girl glance at her wrist watch, unexpectedly even to himself, he ended his discourse.

At the door it was the girl who extended her hand.

"That was much better," she said, and cast back a dimpling smile.

He could not avoid seeing the girl at the midweek lecture—she wore such a dashing hat and her face glowed beneath its brim.

"Next Sunday," she suggested, her eyes were twinkling, "in addition to the shorter, more graphic sermon, I would institute the singing of newer and more tuneful hymns in place of the old solemn ones. Farmington people need cheering up."

That evening the pastor passed through many moods, from indignation to speculation. "After all, there might be truth in the suggestions so crudely given. His labor lacked result; this was true. He would humble himself to try the girl's advice. There was about her some confident power.

He missed her attentive presence from his newly arranged services for some time after his decision. He had the people all singing now; they came in interested numbers to hear his short, forceful sermons. But success could not compensate for his inexplicable disappointment in the girl's absence.

Love had found the Reverend Paul at last. He admitted it freely, love, in the presence of the only one who had dared to criticize himself. And when her face looked up again from the old pew in the corner the heart of the Reverend Paul sang.

Later when he held her hands in his was as though always they had known each other and understood.

"You were brave enough to help me," said the new, humble Paul.

"I wanted you to stay, you see," the unusual girl confessed.

THE UNUSUAL ONE

By MADGE WESTON.

Copyright, 1918, Western Newspaper Union.

The Rev. Paul Worthington, when he received the call to his latest charge, wished desperately that he might love, even as other men, and marry. For the Reverend Paul was of so fine an appearance, combined with pleasing personal qualities, that it was not to be wondered at when maidens of every age and station besought him with veiled or openly bestowed attentions.

Paul, who was not concealed, went over the situation studiously, concluding it was the supposedly superior position of pastor's wife which the girls coveted, he himself being merely a means to that end. The Reverend Paul loved his work and desired above all things to go about it fearlessly.

As a single man, Paul's visits and interest were wont to be personally construed. But as the perverse god of love seemed determined to pass him by he decided to adopt a manner of forbidding aloofness where young women were concerned and seek assistance entirely among their elders.

Thus it happened that the young set of Farmington church at first dubbed the new minister a "conceited prig." His eloquent sermons Paul felt instinctively were not being received with general favor—even the good fellowship sought with the men of his congregation was a failure.

SPANISH INFLUENZA

BY DR. M. COOK

Do Not Fear When Fighting a German or a Germ!

The cool fighter always wins and so there is no need to become panic-stricken. Avoid fear and crowds. Exercise in the fresh air and practice the three C's: A Clean Mouth, a Clean Skin and Clean Bowels. To carry off the poisons that accumulate within the body and to ward off an attack of the influenza bacillus, take a good liver regulator to move the bowels. Such a one is made up of May-apple, leaves of aloe, root of jalap, and is to be had at any drug store and called "Pleasant Purgative Pellets."

If a bad cold develops, go to bed, wrap up well, drink freely of hot lemonade and take a hot mustard foot-bath. Have the bedroom warm but well ventilated. Obtain at the nearest drug store "Anuric Tablets" to flush the kidneys and control the pains and aches. Take an "Anuric" tablet every two hours, together with copious drinks of lemonade. If a true case of influenza, the food should be simple, such as broths, milk, buttermilk and ice-cream; but it is important that food be given regularly in order to keep up patient's strength and vitality. After the acute attack has passed, which is generally from three to seven days, the system should be built up by the use of good iron tonic, such as "Ironotic" tablets, to be obtained at some drug stores, or that well known blood-maker and herbal tonic made from roots and barks of forest trees—sold everywhere as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.
